

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES.

MARCH 30, 1858.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. CLAY made the following

REPORT.

[To accompany Bill S. 23.]

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred Senate bill No. 23, for the relief Robert Dickson, together with other papers, ask leave to submit the following report:

That Robert Dickson now receives a pension on account of disability arising from "inguinal hernia on the right side," occasioned by a fall at Monterey, in Mexico, whilst in the performance of duty as a soldier of the United States. The eight dollars per month now received by Mr. Dickson is believed to be the highest sum granted to soldiers under similar circumstances. There is no evidence before the committee going to show that this is a case meriting greater reward from government than others of the same class, and it is therefore recommended that the bill do not pass.

IN THE SENATE OF THE UNITED STATES

March 30, 1855.—Ordered to be printed.

Mr. CLAY made the following

REPORT.

[To accompany Bill S. 25.]

The Committee on Pensions, to whom was referred Senate Bill No. 23, for the relief of Robert Dickson, together with other papers, and leave to submit the following report:

That Robert Dickson now receives a pension on account of disability arising from "ingrinal haris on the right side," occasioned by a fall at Monterey, in Mexico, whilst in the performance of duty as a soldier of the United States. The eight dollars per month now received by Mr. Dickson is believed to be the highest sum granted to soldiers under similar circumstances. There is no advance before the committee going to show that this is a case meriting greater reward from Government than others of the same class, and it is therefore recommended that the bill do not pass.
